

You Must Pay the Price One Way or the Other

The public always pays for a rundown plant, either through inferior service or higher charges.

—Report of Federal Electric Railways Commission.

Yes, it is possible to maintain a sort of street car "service" on a five-cent fare.

By reducing the number of cars; by neglecting repairs on trackage and equipment.

By overlooking details that now add to your convenience.

By operating on "once-in-a-while" schedules instead of "on the dot."

But surely this is not the kind of service you want.

Progress demands that this vital factor in the ability of thousands of men and women, boys and girls, to earn a livelihood be more than mediocre or even good.

To insure THE BEST, rehabilitation, improvements and extensions are necessary.

Increased operating costs leave no part of the nickel to pay for them.

A seven-cent fare is necessary if funds are to be had to keep trackage and equipment at point where service can be maintained and improved.

Which price will you pay?

The Fair Fare Problem Is Your Problem. Figure It Out For Yourself.

BECKHAM VS. FREEDOM.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 14.—Editor Kentucky Irish American: When Beckham was asked by the committee if he would vote in the United States Senate to recognize the Irish Republic he scorned their appeal and shouted "NO" in a voice that carried joy to the heart of every Orangeman in America. What other answer did they expect from this shallow politician? When a resolution of sympathy for Ireland was offered in the Senate he refused to vote for it because he did not want to offend that brutal bully, England, from whose loins he is proud to have sprung. He was quick to extend aid to Armenia, but the appeal of suffering Ireland was cast aside. He saw no virtues in her cause. The British Legation looked down on him from the diplomatic gallery confident that he would cast his vote with that bitter, unrelenting minority which hates the Irish and stands between them and recognition by this powerful Government.

PROTEST HIS SEIZURE.

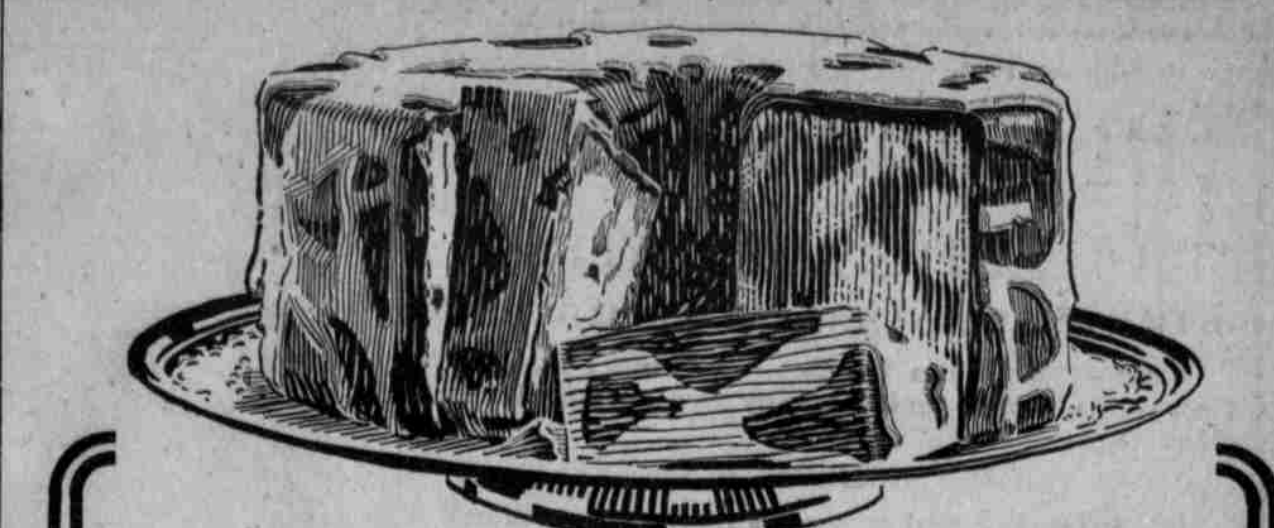

The Rev. M. M. English, of Whitehall, Mont., returned last week with four other American priests on the Cunarder Kaiserin Augusta Victoria from Ireland. He spent several weeks in Limerick and brought back a graphic description of the tyranny of the British soldiers. He said: "My brother Patrick accompanied me to Ireland. He has not yet obtained full naturalization papers and after we reached the home of our parents, a squad of soldiers arrived, ransacked the house, searched our baggage and carried Patrick away. Neither my parents in Ireland, nor my brother, nor I had ever expressed our sentiments about the Sinn Féin movement. There was no excuse for the soldiers depriving my brother of his liberty, and I am going to Washington to ask Senator Walsh, of Montana, to have the State Department protest. My father's neighbor, Daniel Lynch, was taken from his home and shot. When the soldiers found they had shot the wrong man they expressed their regret. And it is just such things as these that have made so much trouble in Ireland."

CHAPLAIN WARING RESIGNS.

Very Rev. George J. Waring, who was in charge of Catholic chaplains in the Atlantic vicariate during the war, has resigned his commission in the army after a service of sixteen years, to resume his duties in the chancery of the New York archdiocese. Mr. Waring returns at the request of Most Rev. Archbishop Hayes, who wants his assistance in conducting the affairs of the archdiocese. Mr. Waring was chaplain of the Eleventh Cavalry in Cuba from 1905 until 1909. In 1914 he was detached at the instance of Major Gen. Wood, then chief of staff, for special work in the military prison. Subsequently he went overseas as a representative of the Chaplain Bishop, and while abroad visited all the battle fronts.

RIFLE FIRE AND GRENADES DEFEAT MOB ATTACK.

First photos of attempted storming of the Reichstag by Berlin mobs. The strong charged the building after listening to fiery orations. The drive on the portals was broken on ly after repeated rifle fire and throwing of many grenades. Scores of dead and injured were carried into the courtyard of the building after the hand-to-hand battle.

BIGOTRY BEATEN.

Overwhelming repudiation and defeat at the hands of the voters of Michigan in the Statewide primaries was the outcome of the attempt of James Hamilton, author of a proposal to proscribe private schools, to get the Republican nomination for the Governorship. Out of a possible total of 350,000 votes in Detroit, his own city, Hamilton received less than 2,000, and finished seventh in the race, in which nine candidates were entered. His vote in the State at large was about 20,000. The gubernatorial nomination was won by Attorney General Alex J. Groesbeck, who in July held in an official opinion that the proposed constitutional amendment requiring all children between the ages of six and sixteen years to attend the public schools was in conflict with the Federal Constitution and therefore invalid. Hamilton and other bigots have been endeavoring for several years to obtain a law of this intent. It is admitted that their real purpose was to attack the Catholic schools. With only a few precincts missing from the official count, Attorney General Groesbeck's defeat of Milo D. Campbell, his nearest competitor, by more than 17,000 votes, was conceded. The total vote cast for Groesbeck in 2,453 of the 2,947 precincts was 78,778. Campbell received 61,242 votes; Charles E. Mott, third in the race, 49,173; and Hamilton, seventh, 15,000.

BABE RUTH WITH BAND.

The famous boys' band at St. Mary Industrial School, Baltimore, the institution that gave "Babe" Ruth to the baseball world, is to tour the cities of the American League with the New York Yankees on their final swing around the circuit this season. Fifty skilful little musicians, who constitute the band, are now tuning up for the trip, which will be under the personal auspices of "Babe" Ruth, the hero of the school, and which is intended to help raise funds in aid of the drive for $2,000,000 now being conducted by St. Mary School. It is Ruth's idea. When he heard that his alma mater needed funds and contemplated a drive, he suggested that concerts be given in all the cities of the American League, and promised himself to go on the platform and tell what the school had done for him. The band will also give concerts prior to the games in which the Yankees play. Brother Paul, Superintendent of the school, and Brother Matthias, the man who started Ruth on his baseball career, will accompany the band.

FEELS CARDINAL'S DEATH.

Cardinal Amette's death is regarded in Rome as a tremendous loss to France and at the present moment a personal loss to Rome also. During the war, Cardinal Amette was the link between France and Rome, having made several visits before and after the armistice. He was one of the most prominent figures at the canonization of St. Jean of Arc. The almost simultaneous death of the Spanish Cardinal Guisasaio y Menander renews the fear that the old tradition, often verified heretofore, about Cardinals dying in threes, is to come true again.
